Job Description for CEO
for Delhi Science & Technology Cluster Introduction S&T Clusters are formal umbrella structures being created so the S&T institutions in various cities can have better synergy, while retaining their internal autonomy. Activating these clusters will involve creation of strong linkages between existing networks of universities, national research institutions, along with the relevant line ministries, industry partners, state governments and international institutions of excellence. The clusters will operate on an innovative and self-sustainable business model by creating its own a legal entity and ensuring financial participation by all stakeholders. The clusters will work towards achieving three objectives:

- Increase India’s national & global S&T competitiveness.
- Become regional solution providers for local industry & government.
- Create shared S&T ecosystems in India. The clusters will operate in close coordination with the Science and Technology Cluster Apex Committee, and the Prime Minister’s Science, Technology and Innovation Advisory Council (PM-STIAC). Roles and Responsibilities of CEO 1. Creating and managing the cluster’s dedicated legal entity in
