Candidates should be skilled in one or more of the following relevant technologies:

- Spark/Hadoop and distributed data processing
- Stream management through Kafka and Flink
- Data management systems such as MongoDB, ElasticSearch, Neo4j etc.
- AI/ML tools such as TensorFlow and Keras and their deployment over GPU cluster

Candidates should be conversant with recent trends in machine learning and / or natural language processing, and have the ability to evaluate and implement ideas from research papers with minimal supervision.
